DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 31 recites the limitation "actuator mechanism" in line 13. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. The Examiner believes that the Applicant intended to use the term "actuator lever".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 31, 33, and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S.

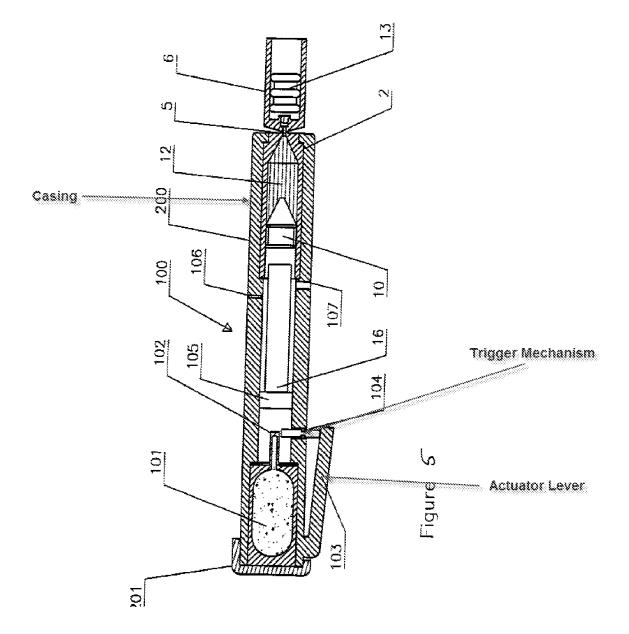

Patent Pub. No. 2001/0004682 to Weston.

Regarding claims 31, 33, and 37, Weston teaches a needleless injection device (100), comprising a casing; a cartridge (1) containing a medicament for injection and an orifice (5) at one end thereof through which the medicament is driven for injection through a patient's skin; a drive mechanism (101) which upon actuation applies force to the medicament, forcing the medicament out of the orifice and through the patient's skin; a trigger mechanism (refer to marked-up figure below) which actuates the drive mechanism; a safety mechanism (102) which, in a first configuration (intact), prevents the trigger mechanism from actuating the drive mechanism and in a second configuration (detached) allows trigger mechanism to actuate the drive mechanism; and an actuator lever (refer to marked-up figure below) which moves the safety mechanism from its first configuration into its second configuration; wherein the actuator mechanism comprises a portion extending outside of the casing which portion is accessible to a user and which when the portion is moved by the user the movement brings the safety mechanism into its second configuration (refer to marked-up figure below); wherein the safety mechanism in its first configuration prevents the trigger mechanism from moving (refer to marked-up figure below); the trigger mechanism may rest on the safety mechanism, and until the safety mechanism is forced into the safety mechanism comprises an obstructer portion which in the first configuration obstructs, and in the second configuration allows, movement of the trigger mechanism until the safety mechanism in and of itself obstructs the trigger mechanism until the safety mechanism becomes detached).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 31, 33, and 37 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 35, 36, 38-40, 54 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. Claims 41-43, 45-53, 55, and 56 are allowed.
